The eagle's force

Thomas Churchyard

Cantus Primus

William Byrd

The Eagle's force sub-dues each Bird that flies: What metal can resist, resist the flaming fire? Doth not the Sun dazzle the clear-est eyes, the clear-est eyes, the clear-est eyes? And melt the ice, and make the frost re-tire? re-tire? Who can with-stand a puis-sant King's de-sire, a puis-sant King's de-sire, de-sire? The stiff-est stones are pierc-ed through with tools, are pierc-ed through with tools, are pierc-ed through with tools: the wis-est are with Prin-ces made but fools. The wis-est are with Prin-ces made but fools, made but fools. The fools.
The eagle's force
Cantus Secundus

The Eagle's force subdues each Bird that flies, each bird that flies:

what metal can resist the flaming fire? Doth not the Sun dazzle the clearest eyes, the clearest eyes, the clearest eyes? and melt the ice, and make the frost retire? retire?

Who can withstand apuissant King's desire, a puissant King's desire, desire, desire? The stiffest stones are pierced through with tools, are pierced through with tools, are pierced through with tools: The wisest are with Princes made but fools, are with Princes made but fools.

The wisest are with Princes made but fools. The wisest are with Princes made but fools, made but fools, made but fools.
