

Bassus

U - pon a Sommers day love went to swym, U - pon a Sommers

8 day love went to swym, and cast him-selſe in-to a Sea of teares, A

17 and clouds cald in their light, and heaven waxt dym, and sighes did

23 raise a tem-pest, caus-ing feares, and sighes did raise a tem-pest, caus-ing

30 B feares. The naked boy, The naked boy, could not so wyld his

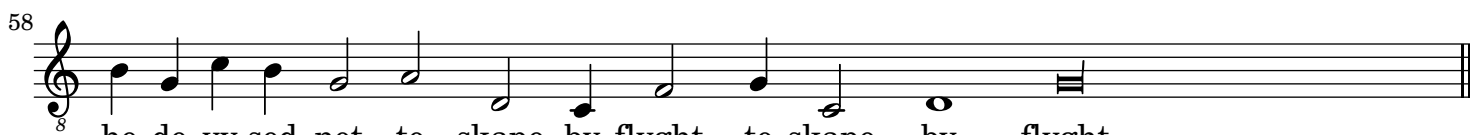

38 C armes, but that the waves were maisters of his might, of his might, and threatned

46 him to worke farre greater harmes, farre greater harmes, and threatned him to worke farre

51 great - er harmes, if he de - vy-sed not to skape by flyght, by flyght, if 58 he de-vy-sed not to skape by flyght, to skape by flyght.

67 The second part

8 Then for a bote his qui-ver stode in stead, his qui-ver stode in stead, his

74

8 bow un-bent did serve him for a mast, where-by to sayle his cloth

82

8 of vayle, where-by to sayle his cloth of vayle, his cloth of vayle he spread, and

89

8 shafts for ores on ei-ther bord he cast, his shafts for ores on ei-ther bord he cast,

96

8 his shafts for ores on ei-ther bord he cast, from shyp-wracke safe this

102

8 wag got thus to shore, from shyp-wracke safe this wag got thus to shore, got thus to

108

8 shore, and sware, and sware, to bath in lo-vers teares no more, in lo-vers

114

8 teares no more, to bath in lo-vers teares no more, no more.