Faire if you expect admiring,
Cantus
Thomas Campian

1. Faire if you expect admiring, sweet if you proceed Fond but if thy light be blindness, faire if thou advance

2. Fates, if you rule lovers fortunate, Stars, if men your Time, if sorrow be not endless, Hope made vaine, and voke desire, grace deere love with kind requeting, flect un-kindness, flie both love and loves delighting.

powers importune, Yield relief by your relenting?
pit-tie friendles, helpe to ease my long lamenting.

Then when hope is lost and love is scorned, Ile bury my de-But if griefes remaine still un-re-dresed Ile flie to her asires, and quench the fires that ever yet in vaine have burned.
gaine, and she for pit-tie to re-nue my hopes distress.

Bassus